I know what this is about, it is about the government acting like it owns everything. I have seen the pictures and it is not a dam it is a pound. You can call a dog a termite all you want but it is still a dog! I own property as well and I am thinking of doing the same thing just to spite you aholes! Who in the hell do you think you are, I agree with Andy Johnson and you can take your threats and fines and shove them! You know what tomorrow I am going to draw up plans and figure out the materials and all I can say is your people better stay off my property because I would be happy to escort you off. But of dam nazi's aholes. You don't own everything and you want to get into a pissing contest with we the people we can ultimately have you defunded and kicked to the curb just try us!
